PREFACE

The Social Statistics Report 2012 is a comprehensive compilation of the contemporary social situation in Nigeria. The Report presents a variety of social and economic indicators with which quality of life can be measured, in most cases, over the last four years.

The survey and sample design from which most of the data were collected emanated from the concerted efforts of the following departments of the Bureau: Demography and Social Statistics, Real Sector and Household Statistics, as well as Field Services & Methodology Departments. The coverage was a complete enumeration of all Ministries, Departments and Agencies (MDAs) Federal, State and Local Government levels, including academic and research institutions.

Administrative Statistics from records of relevant subject matter Ministries, Parastatals and Statistical Agencies were mostly used. In most instances, time series data sets spanning 2006 to 2011 are presented. Statistics over this time frame on annual basis formed the benchmark for measuring the social as well as economic conditions of the citizenry of Nigeria. The themes covered in the Report include education, health, housing conditions, households, employment, public safety (road accidents & crime), population/vital registration, the legislature, communication, transportation, energy as well as religion. For ease of reference, the Social Statistics Report has been split into Parts I-IV. This current Report, Part II, contains seven chapters of the 2012 Social Statistics Report (SSR) and presents statistics on the legislature, communications, transport, energy, religion, judiciary and tourism in Nigeria.

I would like to seize the opportunity to thank the Planning, Research and Statistics Departments in the relevant MDAs, who have been very helpful in providing the data needs for the various components of this Report. Agencies that were, for any reasons, unable to respond to our data request are encouraged to assist the Bureau, by providing the required information in a timely manner in future compilations. This is necessary for the production of timely, accurate and reliable data series that is relevant for government policy formulation, and public evaluation of socio-economic development.

It is therefore my pleasure to present the Social Statistics Report 2012 to policymakers, students, researchers, the business community, development partners, and the general public. National Bureau of Statistics welcomes suggestions and constructive comments on any part of this document.

CHAPTER ONE

LEGISLATURE

This chapter presents data on elections in Nigeria in the years 2003, 2007 and 2011. This chapter also provided data on the various political posts declared by the Independent National Electoral Commission (INEC) and contested for by a number of political parties.

In 2011 presidential election, a total of 73,528,040 voters were registered. Of this, 6,108,069 were registered in Lagos state, the most of any state, while Bayelsa state recorded the least (591,870). A total of 39,469,520 votes were cast of which Kano state had the highest (2,745,451) while Ekiti state had the least(281,924). Bayelsa state had the highest voters turnout (86.44%) while Ogun state had the least (29.41%). (See Table 1.1)

In the 2011 Governorship results (Table 8.4) 73,528,040 voters were registered while 28,297,953 voted. Akwa ibom witnessed the largest voters turnout(72.58%) while Borno (4.75%) had the least voters turnout. (Table 1.4a)

Of the 109 senatorial seats contested in 2011, 8 were held by women compared to 9 in 2007 and 4 in 2003. For the Federal House of Representatives, 21 seats were held by women out of the 360 seats available compared to 26 in 2007 and 22 in 2003. (Table 1.5)

CHAPTER THREE TRANSPORT STATISTICS

Highway, rail and aviation systems are of vital importance to the economy. They convey not just humans but products too. Accurate travel information is important for evaluating transportation sector. In recent years transport statistics collection practices have improved.

According to Table 3.1a, the number of passengers increased from 708,775 in 2006 to 1,527,185 in 2010 showing an upward trend in the number of passengers over the years. The highest volume of haulage recorded was in 2010 with 100,373 Tonnes, while the least was in 2009 with 43,359. On total revenue, the trend observed over the years was a downward movement. The highest recorded was 2006 with 962,339,863 while 2010 recorded the least with 275,054,035.

On Nigeria Railway Corporations Cost of Operation/Inputs (2006-2010), Table 3.1b shows that there was a continuous increase in the total cost of operation/input over the years from 2006 to 2010. The Corporation's cost of operation rose from 2,461,917,272 in 2006 to 5,860,692,856 in 2010. Salaries and wages also witnessed increment over the years from 2006 to 2010, rising from N1,766,899,289 to N4,184,580,343.

According to Table 3.2, Minna is the closest state capital to Abuja FCT with 156 Km while Damaturu (Yobe State) is the farthest with 957 Km.

CHAPTER FOUR

ENERGY

Energy is the main spring of development and all the activities of other sectors of the economy. The dimension of state development therefore is a direct result of the level of development in the energy sector, the amount and quality of energy generated and distributed; the effectiveness and reliability of the distribution. It is the bedrock of any country's development, the viability of any country's economy is dependent on energy and power generation, distribution and utilization to grow optimally.

CHAPTER FIVE

RELIGION

In Nigeria, religious pilgrimages have been of great national significance especially with reference to both government and individual's participation. Both Christian and Muslim pilgrimages have religious and economic implications involving huge government and private spending. However, the demand for this spiritual exercise has been on the increase from various states of the federation.

As shown in Table 5.1, the total number of seats allocated to states in 2011 was 89,059 seats compared to 85,000 in 2009 and 2010. Among states, Kaduna had the highest number of 7771 seats while Cross Rivers had the least (50 seats). The seats allocated to FCT rose from 3,160 in 2010 to 3,511 in 2011 while that of special interest groups increased from 971 to 1373 between 2010 and 2011.

CHAPTER SIX JUDICIARY

In Nigeria, the federal judicial power is exercised by the federal courts which adjudicate in disputes arising between individuals, businesses and governments in their inter-relationship with one another within or outside the country in accordance with the laws of the federation.

According to Table 6.1, in 2011 among the 14 Justices of the Supreme Court, 3 were females compared to 2 in 2007. Similarly, the number of the federal judges of the court of appeal rose to 17 in 2011 from 14 a year earlier, out of a total of 65 judges. However, at the industrial court, the number of female judges dropped to 3 in 2011 from 5 in 2008 and 4 in 2010. Overall, the number of judicial offices rose to 199 from 188 earlier 2010 of which 47 were females compared to 41 in 2010.

Among states, Table 6.2b shows that while the number of judges in the states high courts declined from 606 in 2010 to 588 in 2011, the number of female judges increased from 185 to 187 between 2010 and 2011.

Table 6.4 shows the number of judges at state level courts. While there are no female judges in the state Sharia courts of appeal, the number of judges has declined from 112 in 2008 to 103 in 2011. Similarly, the number of judges in state customary courts of appeal declined from 73 in 2010 to 71 in 2011. Of this, the number of female judges rose from 15 to 16. Following a similar trend, at the state high court, the number of judges decreased from 613 in 2008 to 588 in 2011. Over the period however, number of female judges rose from 175 to 187.

The number of political office holders who declared their assets in 2011 stood at 16,101 compared to 4,711 in 2010 and 23,688 in 2007. Cross Rivers had the highest number of declarants in 2011 at 2,848. In 2011, a total of 100,143 civil servants (GL 12-17) declared their assets compared to 140,131 in 2010 and 65,113 in 2007. Taraba state had the highest number of declarants at 12,828, followed by Kogi with 10,239 declarants.

CHAPTER SEVEN

TOURISM

The immense contribution of tourism to the overall GDP of the nation's economy cannot be over emphasized. The federal government is laying more emphasis on the development of non-oil revenue aspect of the economy. As a fast growing sector in Nigeria, it is therefore very important that reliable, accurate and timely statistical data about the sector are made available for policy formulation, planning, regulation, marketing, monitoring and evaluation.

According to Table 7.1 which shows the distribution of international arrivals by airports (2008 -2011) in 2008, a total of 405,105 non-Nigerians arrived through the various airports. Muritala Mohammed International Airport, Lagos witnessed the highest number of arrivals with a total of 222,848 followed by Aminu Kano Airport with 63,664. Port-Harcourt International Airport witnessed the least arrivals with 1,185 males and 663 females.

In 2009 and 2010, there was a steady increase of about 60 percent males who arrived the Muritala Mohammed Airport, Lagos followed by Nnamdi Azikiwe Airport Abuja with about 20 percent increase in males and 27 percent increase in females. The least was Portharcourt International Airport with 6 percent and 5.1 percent increase in males and females respectively.

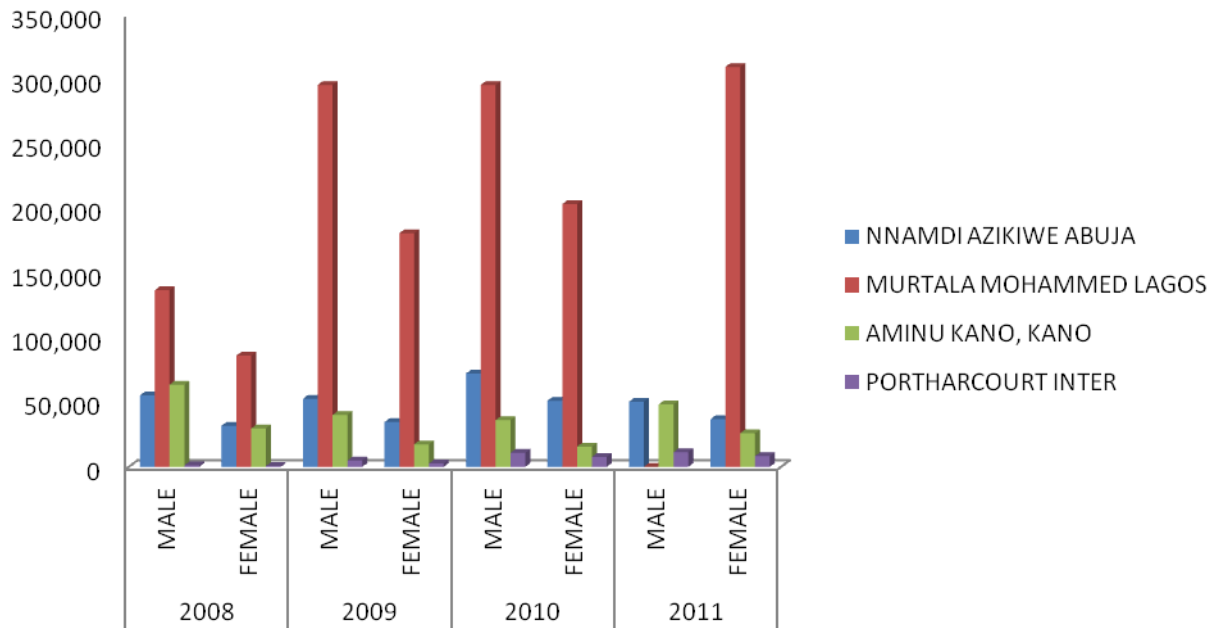

The year 2011 witnessed the highest non-Nigerian arrival at Muritala Mohammed Airport Lagos with 40,191 males and 309,657 females followed by Nnamdi Azikiwe Airport, Abuja with 50496 males and 36,914 females. As observed earlier, Portharcourt International Airport had the least arrivals with 11,398 males and 8,294 females respectively.
